

The 1st amendment is great and should be upheld, however I also have the right not to listen or be bothered by telemarketers or the like. Telephone, e-mail, and instant messaging were never envisioned by the writers of the constitution, and no protection from individuals that would abuse the privilege were written in. I want protection from these people. I don't want to be bothered by them.